

Panelist

Joseph McCarthy

Vice President and General Manager of Communications and Tactical Networks, BAE Systems

Mr. Joseph McCarthy is BAE Systems vice president and general manager of the Communications and Tactical Networks (C&TN) business area, Network Systems line of business. C&TN employs 1,500 people with major facilities in Wayne, New Jersey; Reston, Virginia; and San Diego, California.

Mr. McCarthy is also the chairman of Data Links Solutions which is a Limited Liability Company with Rockwell Collins. He has over 20 years of experience in the defense industry, with a concentration in high technology DoD and International markets' strategic planning, product line growth, program execution, customer relations, and industry teaming.

Prior positions include vice president and general manager of the Communications and Navigation business area of NES and CNIR, vice president of C3I Programs, director of Link-16 Advanced and Production Programs, program manager of JTIDS Link 16 Programs, and contracting officer for AMCON at Picatinny Arsenal.

Mr. McCarthy received a bachelor of arts degree from Glassboro State College and a masters of business administration degree from Fairleigh Dickinson University.