Bob King

Bob King

Product Line Manager, Tactical Communications System
Raytheon Company

Bob King is the product line manager for handheld Enhanced Position Location and Reporting System (EPLRS) radios in the Tactical Communications System (TCS) within Raytheon. He has held this position since 1996.

Prior to that, King was the program manager for the successful MicroLight product that is being used in the U.S. Land Warrior program today. Prior to that assignment, he served as the program manager for Raytheon's part of the EPLRS waveform to the Boeing Joint Tactical Radio Systems (JTRS) GMR radio terminal.

For the 10 years prior to joining Raytheon, King served in various leadership positions in the commercial telecommunications industry. Before that, he started his career as a systems engineer for Hughes Aircraft Company.
