Christopher Miller

Program Executive Officer Command, Control, Communications, Computers and Intelligence (C4I)

Christopher Miller is the Program Executive Officer Command, Control, Communications, Computers and Intelligence (PEO C4I), responsible for the acquisition and life cycle management of assigned C4I programs.

A graduate of Vanderbilt University and former Marine Corps Intelligence Officer, he left active duty in 1999 to work as a consultant for Booz Allen Hamilton coordinating the Year 2000 transition for Navy command and control programs.

Miller re-entered government service with the Space and Naval Warfare Systems Command and led development of a common Windows® 2000 PC software baseline that is the foundation of the Navy's Information Technology 21 (IT-21) tactical network.

Miller joined PEO C4I in 2004 and entered the Senior Executive Service in May 2006 as executive director/deputy for PEO C4I and Space. He was appointed acting program executive officer PEO C4I in August 2006.
